

CONTENTS

---

COW UP A TREE Knowing and Learning for Change in Agriculture Cases Studies from Industrialised Countries

Foreword

B. Hervieu, Chairman of INRA .....	9
---	---

Part I. Introducing Learning and Knowing Processes

The 'Problematique' with Respect to Industrialised-Country Agricultures B. Hubert, R.L. Ison &amp; N. Röling .....	13
Theoretical Frameworks for Learning-Based Approaches to Change in Industrialised-Country Agricultures R.L. Ison, C. High, C.P. Blackmore &amp; M. Cerf .....	31
Intervention Research and the Production of Knowledge A. Hatchuel .....	55
Globalisation and Technology: the Implications for Learning Processes in Developed Agriculture J. Jiggins, B. Huber &amp; M. Collins .....	69

Part II. Working with Learning Groups

Learning Groups Developing Collaborative Learning Methods for Diversified, Site-Specific Weed Management: a Case Study from Minnesota, USA. N. Jordan, S. White, J. Gunsolus, R. Becker &amp; S. Damme .....	85
Learning Processes in Designing and Disseminating Ecological Olive Production Systems in Crete, Greece. E. Kabourakis .....	97
The Results and Success Factors of a Farm Monitoring and Study Group Approach to Collective Learning in New Zealand. G.W. Sheath &amp; R.W. Webby .....	111
Promoting Collective Learning in a Land-Use Management Project: Thirteen Years' Experience in Researcher-Technician Partnership in the Cévennes, France. N. Couix &amp; B. Hubert .....	121
Farmers and Environmental Learning in Britain: the Case of the Farming and Wildlife Advisory Group. J. Mills &amp; M. Winter .....	141

Towards Sustainable Rural Livelihoods: the Emergence of Co-Learning Approaches in Swedish Agriculture M. Ljung &amp; D. Gibbon .....	151
Learning Together about Dairy Cow Fertility Technologies in Relation to Farming Systems in New Zealand M.S. Paine, C.R. Burke, G.A. Verkerk &amp; P.J. Jolly .....	163
The FARMSCAPE Experience. Simulations Aid Participative Learning in Risky Farming Systems in Australia Z. Hochman, J. Coutts, P.S. Carberry &amp; R.L. McCown .....	175

Part III. Developing and Adapting Methodologies for Creating Learning Contexts

From Debate about Degradation to Dialogue about Vegetation Management in Western New South Wales, Australia S. Kersten .....	191
Moving from Natural to Systemic Social Learning through Systematic Reflection and Dialogue C. King .....	205
Whole Systems Inquiry: Watersheds as Integral Systems for Systemic Learning and Action R.D. William .....	227
Considering Metaphors of Countrysides in the United Kingdom D. McClintock .....	241
Formalising Categories of Farms in Learning Situations. An Experience in Building a Typology of Land Use in Sheep Farming N. Girard .....	253
A Negotiation Decision Support System as a Learning Tool. The Case of Price Elaboration for Ewe Milk in the Corsican Dairy Sheep Industry R. Bouche .....	271

Part IV. Changing Institutional and Social Landscapes

Conventions as a Means for the Pursuit of Knowledge A. Koutsouris .....	291
Linking Natural Resource Management Dynamics and Organisational Development: Adapting to Emerging Groundwater Management in Gelderland, The Netherlands M. Maarleveld .....	305
Environmental Precaution as Learning: Genetically Modified Crops in the UK L. Levidow &amp; S. Carr .....	323
Desperate to Get off the Treadmill. Renegotiating Arable Farming in a Densely Populated Industrialised Country J. Proost &amp; N. Röling .....	337
Managing Change in Advisory Services: Controlling the Dynamics of Resource Transformation and Use L. Hémidy &amp; M. Cerf .....	351

Catalyzing Systems Change through Community-Based Learning O.B. Hesterman &amp; J.W. Fisk .....	369
Learning through Processes of Change in Agriculture: a Methodological Framework M. Barbier &amp; B. L��mery .....	381

Part V. Education and Training for Change

Back to the Future: Reflections from Hawkesbury R. Bawden, R. Packham, R. Macadam &amp; B. McKenzie .....	397
Benefits and Limits of Co-Learning among Farmers, Extension Workers and Researchers. Reflections on Two Training and Research Projects in Brazil and Argentina C. Albaladejo .....	411
Towards Capacity Building for Complex Systems Management: Imagining Three Dimensions J. Jiggins &amp; N. R��ling .....	429

Part VI. Conclusions

Fostering Emergence: New Research and Development Traditions for Knowing and Learning LEARN@Group .....	443
---	-----

Postscript

Contribution to an Epistemology of Research-in-Action M. Sebillotte .....	461
---	-----

Knowing and Learning Processes. Perspectives from a Devil's Advocate

Cow Up a Tree. A Critical Assessment M. Petit .....	477
---	-----

List of Contributors .....	489
-----------------------------------	-----